Clinical Scenarios Illustrating Cultural Issues

Communicating effectively and sensitively with patients from different cultural backgrounds can be challenging.

This DVD aims to provide you with a guide to improving the consultation experience for patients and yourselves as registrars, by focusing on cultural issues that need to be considered when communicating with patients.

You'll have the chance to sit through a consultation where the GP makes numerous errors, then have the opportunity to learn from his mistakes, listening to the feedback provided by registrars, a medico-legal representative, medical educators and a cultural and communication consultant.

GENERAL PRACTICE TRAINING

Preparing for your FRACGP exam can be stressful - it helps to know what to expect.

Inside you will find a comprehensive audiovisual learning tool that sets out what to expect of the exam, some of the pitfalls to avoid and study tips to help you on your way to achieving your fellowship.

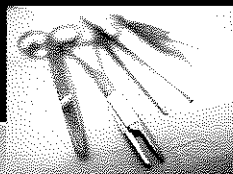

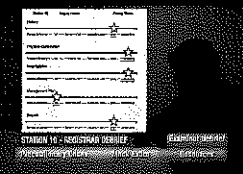

You will have the chance to follow a candidate through a complete mock clinical exam. Go from station to station with the candidate, then listen to the examiner and registrar debriefs.

You'll also be taken through precautionary cases that demonstrate some of the common reasons candidates may fail their clinical exam.

In the resource section you'll find practical study tips for individuals and groups.
